By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

HONOLULU (AP) — President Eisenhower, hailed by more than 100,000 cheering Hawaiians, scheduled another golf round today after apparently snapping back fast from weariness of his Far East tour.

Eisenhower was admittedly exhausted when he arrived from Korea in this new 50th state at midday Monday. Nevertheless, he lost little time in turning to his favorite outdoor recreation.

The President took a brief nap and then played nine holes of golf on a sunny, breeze-cooled course at the edge of the blue Pacific. The temperature was in the mid-80s but there was none of the mugginess he had encountered almost everywhere on his tour to the Philippines, Nationalist China, Okinawa and Korea.

Today, Eisenhower arranged a morning round of golf, starting about 8 a.m. over the same course at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station where he plans to relax for perhaps the rest of the week before flying home to Washington.

Warmly applauding Hawaiians greeted the traditional welcome of the islands, "Aloha," as the President stepped smilingly from his big jet airliner. They kept it up all the way along the populated section of his 22-mile motorcade across this beautiful island to

Refused Step So Is Convicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arvin Monroe Frank, 24, reported for Army induction here May 27, 1959.

But he refused to "take one step forward," the formality necessary to induction, so yesterday he was convicted of failing to submit to induction.

Frank, of Fayetteville, was convicted by a U. S. District Court jury. Sentencing was deferred. He had pleaded he was a minister in the Jehovah's Witnesses church and exempt.

Neutral Judge Plan Gains Ground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widespread system of letting outside neutrals judge labor-management grievances now has been given a good deal more finality and speed.

The Supreme Court held in a series of cases Monday that courts should steer clear of reviewing merits of grievances when an employer and union have agreed such complaints should be decided by arbitration.

The high court said in effect the courts have no business assuming an arbitrator's function. Even if a complaint is frivolous, the court said, its disposition is up to the arbitrator, not the courts.

Union spokesmen said the rulings give the arbitration process the broadest possible scope and a finality largely free from time-consuming court delays.

Many contracts have clauses agreeing to send any disputes to the binding decision of some neutral. A professional group of arbitrators has grown up.

Hope Men to Help Plan Old Timers' Day

Mayor Sam Andrews of Hope and three other civic leaders have been appointed to the arrangements committee for the "Old Timers' Day" jubilee at Arkla Village in Emmet July 9.

State Sen. Olen Hendrix, of Prescott, chairman of the special celebration, announced that Ray Lawrence, Elmer Brown and Cliff Bridgers will also serve on the arrangements committee.

Prescott members of the committee include Dr. A. W. Hudson, Mayor Bert Wingfield and R. C. McBrayer.

Chairman Hendrix said that plans are being finalized for the special event, which will salute the pioneer residents of this area and also mark the near completion of Arkla Village's first full season as a new southwest Arkansas tourist attraction and industry. The committee meets Tuesday night at the Chuck Wagon Restaurant at Arkla Village to work on final arrangements.

Outstanding events will include an in-person appearance by the entire Louisiana Hayride, internationally-known folk music radio show, which will broadcast from the Village arena from 8 to 11 p.m. on July 9. The Hayride band also will play for an afternoon speaking and entertainment program beginning at 2 p.m.

Gospel singing quartets from Hempstead and Nevada Counties will compete for prizes in a contest during the afternoon program. Prizes will include rocking chairs made at one of the Village's two plants, plus a chance to appear on the Louisiana Hayride radio program that evening.

Fiddle players from Hempstead and Nevada Counties also will be featured in a contest during the afternoon, with the winner likewise receiving a prize and getting to appear on the Hayride show.

During the afternoon, prizes also will be awarded to this area's senior citizens in several categories, including:

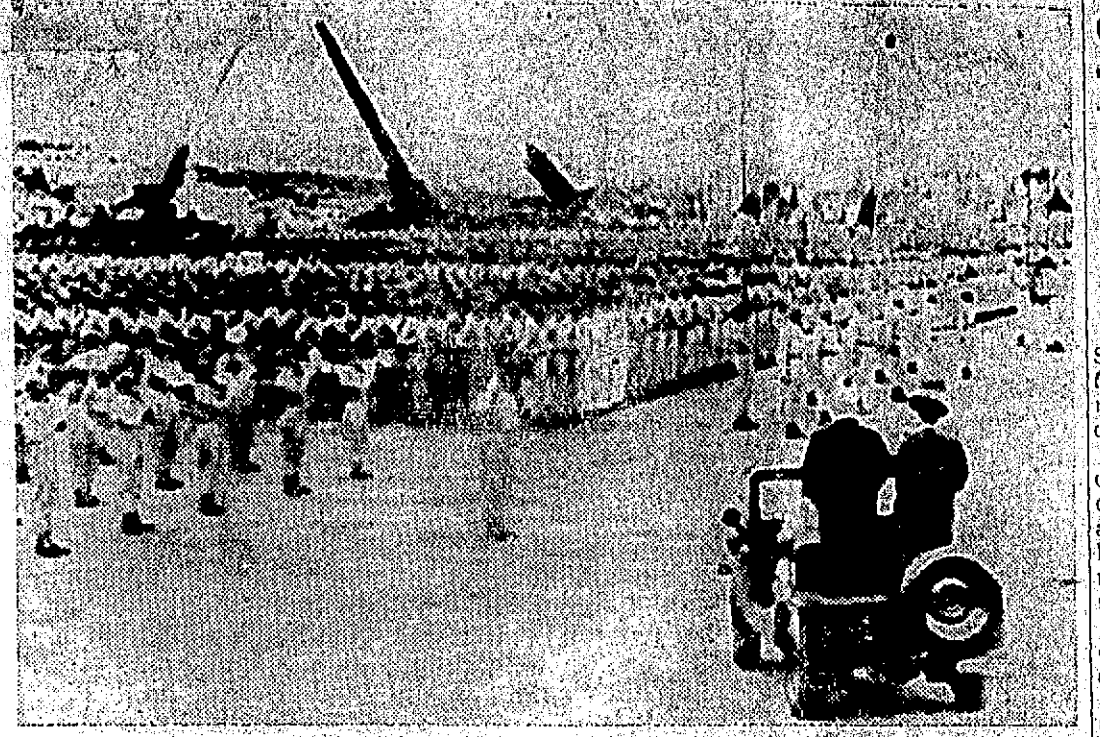

The oldest person attending. The elder citizen who travels the longest distance to attend Old Timers' Day.

The longest-married couple. The family with the most generations represented.

The public is invited to the celebration, and there will be no admission charge.

Shreveport Men to Preach Here

The Rev. Walter Bailes of Shreveport will speak Thursday night at the Gospel Lighthouse Church at Avenue C and Andres, according to the pastor, the Rev. Lacie Rowe. Mr. Bailes will be accompanied by his wife and some young members of the Shreveport Church. Services start at 7:45 p.m.

Hope Man Is Killed in Georgia

A 78-year-old man, D. B. Atchley, was fatally injured at Ringgold, Ga., Monday when he was hit by a car driven by a 17-year-old girl.

Police Chief J. J. Alden of Ringgold said the accident was unavoidable. Alden said Atchley, attempting to cross a street to catch a ride, dashed in front of the car. Alden said Atchley had been visiting relatives.

The body will be returned to Hope for burial. Herndon-Cornelius will announce arrangements.

Mr. Atchley is survived by his wife, Eva, two sons, Charlie Atchley of Hope, D. B. Atchley Jr., of Chicago; three daughters, Mrs. W. T. Light of Yuba, Calif., Mrs. B. C. Plumley of Hope and Mrs. Bobbie Stevens of Crescent City, Calif.

Services will be held at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel at 10 a. m. Thursday by Dr. John McClennahan. Burial will be in Shover Springs Cemetery.

Cotton Insects Subject of Meet

Cotton insects and their control will be discussed when farmers get together at Loys Hampton's farm about 4 miles north of Hope. In making the announcement, County Agent Calvin J. Caldwell said the meeting would be held on Friday, June 24, at 3 p.m.

Grover Dawell, Extension Entomologist from Little Rock, will be present and lead the discussion. Plans are to discuss scouting for insects, the right insecticides to use, and sprayer calibration.

Anyone interested in cotton insects and their control is welcome to attend the county agent said.

2 Arkansas Cities Hold Special Vote

Residents of two Arkansas cities — Booneville and England — voted today in special elections.

The question at Booneville was whether to issue a $130,000 worth of bonds for construction of a city hospital.

Mayor Grover Whitworth said that if the bond issue was successful federal funds would be sought to supplement the local tax money.

He said he didn't know how much federal aid would be asked. There were two issues on the ballot at England.

Residents voted whether to continue parking meters which have been used on a trial basis for the past year.

They also voted whether to authorize the City Council to negotiate with General Waterworks Corp., or take other necessary steps, for acquisition of the privately-owned water system.

Mayor Paul Petty said no bond proposals were involved at this time.

Boy on Bike Hits Auto, Injured

Yesterday at Elm and Avenue D Sam Stewart, 16, riding a bicycle, ran into an auto driven by Denton Harvin, Chief Jack Brown said. The youth suffered arm, side and hip injuries. He was treated and released.

Also yesterday on East Third Street autos driven by J. W. Strickland of Hope and Jack P. Bell of St. Louis collided with only minor damage by the tail light of the Bell auto, according to City Officer Moses.

At West Division and Hazel St. yesterday autos driven by Garland Dillard and K. C. Anderson collided with only fender damage resulting, Officer Milam reported.

Senate Votes Revenue Hike, Not a Slash

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has ended its annual tax fight by voting to increase revenues, rather than cut them as it did a year ago.

The tax bill, passed 84-0 Monday night, not only extended present rates on corporation income and excise taxes yielding 41 billion dollars, but added on an estimated 50 million of additional revenues.

President Eisenhower had asked extension of present taxes for another year.

A worsening international situation combined with recent Senate votes to increase money for defense, health research, education and federal pay led the Senate to swell the Treasury's income in the bill.

The 650 million was added through adoption of three of a series of what their sponsors called loophole-closing amendments advocated by Democrats seeking to avoid a tag of fiscal irresponsibility for their party.

The fate of these in conference with the House is dubious, since that branch had given advance notice it was not inclined to accept any tax amendments. The House originates revenue legislation under the Constitution.

In disposing of the bill in a 14-hour session, the Senate passed one of the major items it had to handle before final adjournment.

The bill extends for another year the corporation income tax and excises on liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, autos, and auto parts and accessories.

Objections to 3 State Water Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration objects to 43 projects — three of them in Arkansas — in a 1 1/2 billion dollar rivers and harbors bill authorization passed Friday by the Senate.

One of the Arkansas projects to which the administration, through the Budget Bureau, has objected is a $43,550,000 authorization for a nine-foot channel on the Ouachita River in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) warned that the measure may face a presidential veto.

He placed in the Congressional Record a list of the 43 projects to which the Bureau objects and said he was embarrassed to find that the largest project on the objectionable list was one he sponsored — a 114 million dollar Illinois River waterway improvement program.

The Bureau objects to the Ouachita River project because final reports by Army Engineers and federal agencies have not been submitted to Congress. It objects on the same grounds to a $1,750,000 authorization for Garland City Ark., bridges.

The Bureau flatly opposes a $1,322,000 Village Creek. White River project in Arkansas.

President Eisenhower vetoed similar bills in 1956 and 1958, but a compromise measure later was approved and signed in 1959.

Clear Field for Civil Rights Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Rights Commission today had a clear field to resume its investigation into complaints of voting discriminations against Negroes in the South.

Legal barriers which have stymied the commission for the past year were swept away by the Supreme Court yesterday.

The commission met here last Friday but at that time fixed no date for its next session. Since some commissioners have summer commitments, it appeared likely that a decision on whether and when to conduct new hearings in the South might be two or three months away.

In one of its major decisions of the 1959-60 term, the high tribunal voted 7-2 to reject a lower court ruling that the commission could not force voter registrars to testify (1) without first advising them of charges against them, and (2) without permitting registrars to confront and cross-examine witnesses.

Chief Justice Warren's majority opinion struck down injunctions issued by the lower court to halt commission hearings in Shreveport, La. The opinion said Congress authorized the commission to adopt the rules. It said the

City Approves 2nd Phase of Planning

The city directors at their regular meeting last night approved a contract with the Planning Division of the University of Arkansas for the second phase of the planning work.

Planning work covered in this second phase of the planning program will include:

(1) Development of a land use plan.

(2) Development of a master street plan.

(3) Preparation of a zoning ordinance.

(4) Preparation of subdivision regulations.

(5) A detailed analysis of existing urban conditions to include the amount and type of development in the urban area, a study and evaluation of social and economic conditions, the identification of conservation, rehabilitation and renewal areas and the determination of measures necessary to meet identified urban planning problems.

The contract covering this work runs for a period of 18 months beginning July 1. The total cost of the program will be $6,500. The city has received a federal grant to cover $3,300 of the cost. The balance will be paid by the city at the rate of $200 per month.

Work already completed by the Planning Division of the University includes all basic maps necessary to study all phases of city planning. Included are maps on the traffic flow, maps showing all residential and business development classified as to types, and maps showing the general area of existing types of development. Also, maps showing the planning area and water and sewer facilities. The new maps show the newly annexed areas and reflect some changes in street names.

Small copies of a map showing boundaries and street names have been reproduced and are available at the City Hall or the Chamber of Commerce office.

Members of the Planning Commission who will be engaged in the development of this work are: Arch Wylie, Chairman, C. C. Lewis, Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Kinard, Secretary, Mrs. Charles Graham, John Wilson, Bill Robison, Al Page, Terrell Cornelius, and E. P. Young Jr.

Two Children Drown in Stock Pond Near Here

Two Negro children drowned in a stock pond just beyond the Hope City limits about 11:35 a. m. today. They were listed as:

Robert L. Young, aged 8 and his sister, Willie Jean Young, 5.

According to City Police the youngsters were swimming with two others and got into water over their heads and drowned. Officers said their mother is Gracie Lee Williams.

Their bodies were recovered shortly after noon in about five to six feet of water. The pond is on the Cecil McCorkle farm located just behind the old municipal airport.

Cotton Fields Are Checked for Weevils

Cotton scouted in Southwest Arkansas had a percent punctured square range by the boll weevil from 8 to 38 percent. In squaring cotton, the live weevil count per acre ranged from 0 to 175 per acre.

This information was given by Extension Entomologist Grover C. Dowell in the first of a series of weekly reports that will continue throughout the cotton insect season.

Only one of the fields checked had the 38 percent square infestation, and it was below 15 percent in the other fields.

Bollworm eggs and larvae were also present on the cotton. One egg count ran as high as 20 eggs per hundred terminals. Some of the bollworms were in the second and third stage or about a quarter of an inch long. Lady beetles and big eyed bugs were numerous. Both are predators of bollworm eggs and the big-eyed bugs attack the larvae.

Aphids and spider mites were not present. Tarnished plant hoppers, rapid plant bugs, and flea hoppers were also not found in the fields checked.

Dowell reviewed control measures for the Southwest area. When you have four live weevils per hundred plants, make one or two insecticide applications at weekly intervals. An alternate method, and probably more feasible for the area, would be when you have two medium size squares per plant and one of them is punctured, apply one or two insecticide applications at weekly intervals.

First generation weevils usually emerge about the time the first blooms appear in the cotton field. You then apply control measures based on percent square punctures. Wait for 25 punctured squares as indicated by the feeding punctures. The feeding punctures indicate a rise in infestation. Apply control measures at the 25 percent punctured square level and maintain this.

Politics Can Cause World Changes

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —The changing political weather in Japan could set off business reactions here as well as policy ones around the world.

The stock market, industrial business, whether it likes it or not, is closely tied in many ways to government decisions at home and abroad. And so, as a result, are jobs and incomes.

The stock market, industrial leaders and consumers in general will have a stake in what kind of government finally controls Japan and sets its relations with us and with the Soviet Union and China, and in what, if any, changes this brings about in the policies of the U. S. Congress and administration.

And a number of American firms have markets, factories, or both in Japan. Others here do a thriving business in importing Japanese goods. Japanese companies also have open stores and other outlets here.

The collapse of the attempt at a summit meeting in Paris failed to upset business trends here because little had been expected from Paris anyway. But the crisis in the Far East might have more far-reaching results since it is a new thing.

The business tie-ins with the cold war change—if that's what the Tokyo rioting and cancellation of President Eisenhower's good-will visit brings about—will be first in the dollar and cents areas of defense spending and foreign trade policies, both exports and imports, and second in the psychological effects on consumers and stock traders and industrial planners.

Whether defense spending goes up, and if so what lines will be favored, will affect the prospects of industries and companies in the view of Wall Street as to the value of their stocks.

Any big change in Japan could spur the protests of a number of American industries against competition from cheaper Japanese products. These run all the way from transistors to steel, from textiles to cameras.

On the psychological front the changes are harder to assess. Americans may shrug off the anti-American uprisings in Japan just as they did the Khrushchev insults in Paris.

But if the cold war seems more pressing now, Americans could decide that more must be spent on defense even if that means a return to Treasury deficits and further monetary inflation.

Businessmen could decide now, as they didn't after Paris, to change their inventory policies from the current hand-to-mouth one and start building up stocks. This could mean more borrowing, tighter money. But it also could mean more orders to suppliers, more industrial output, possibly more jobs.

Consumers could change their minds, too, from feeling that prices are fairly stable and decide now is a good time to buy rather than later.

The Far Eastern clouds could pass over, as other international clouds have. But for awhile they'll be watched closely.

Four Crewmen Survive Crash

PARAMARIBO, Surinam (AP) — Four crewmen, including the Arkansas pilot, survived a jumbo crash yesterday of a U. S. Military Air Transport Globemaster near Zanderij Airport in northern Dutch Guiana.

Two were killed and a third is presumed dead.

The plane was en route from its base in Charleston, S. C., to Recife, Brazil, on a routine supply flight. Zanderij is a refueling stop 25 miles south of Paramaribo.

Airport officials said the plane was attempting an instrument landing when it plunged into the Savvan jungle three miles west of the airport.

A Dutch Army patrol rushed the survivors to a Zanderij hospital, where all were reported in good condition. They include 1st Lt. Jimmy H. French, Damascus, Ark., the pilot.

Pauling Shows Up to Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Linus Pauling showed up at the Capitol today to testify under subpoena before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee but the session was postponed.

The Nobel Prize winning chemist, an outspoken foe of nuclear testing, said he was disappointed at the postponement.

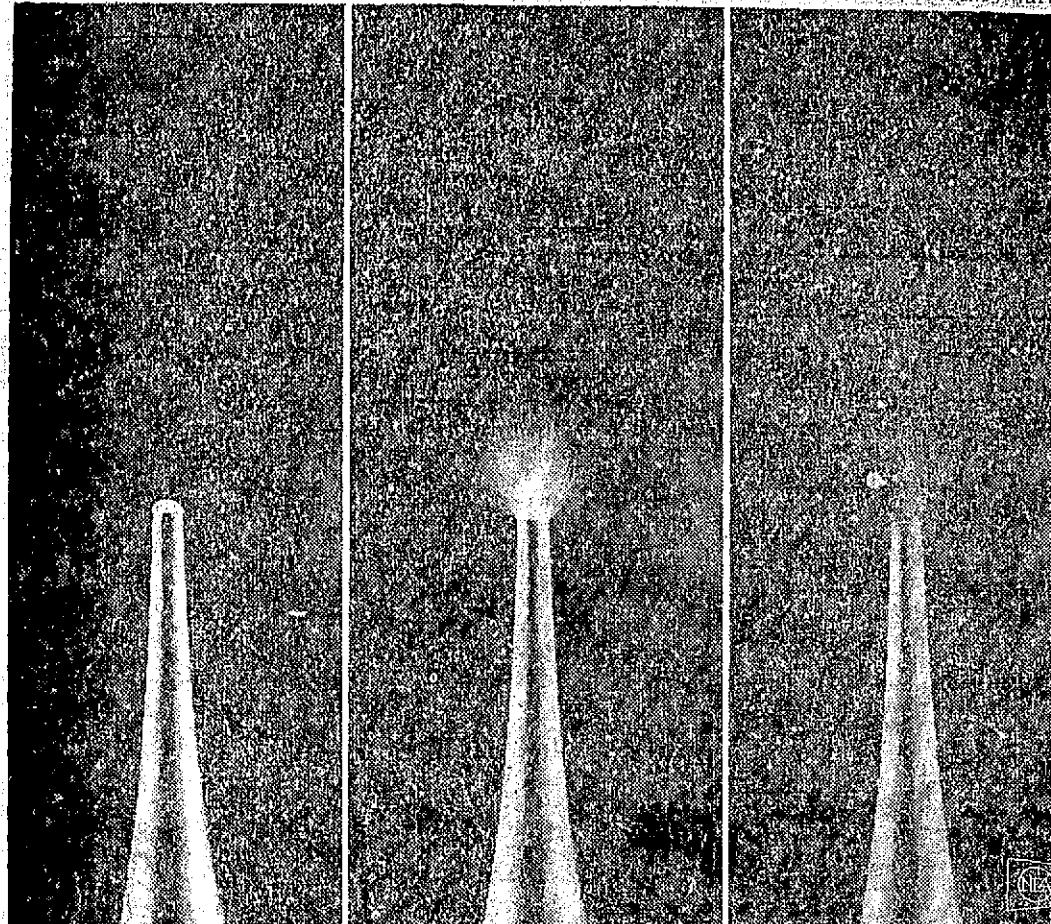

Pauling said Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), a member of the subcommittee, told him the hearing would be held at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Pauling said Dodd explained that no subcommittee could meet today because the Senate was in session and therefore the hearing had been put off.

The subpoena was handed Pauling after he addressed the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom here Saturday night.

Obesity Can Be Caused by Emotions

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

Night eaters and binge eaters may be driven to obesity not by their stomachs — but by their brains and emotions, a researcher reported today.

The night eater is the fellow who rarely eats a meal before noon — begins in earnest at the evening meal and continues eating into the night.

He rarely speaks of being hungry — he just finds himself nibbling and he can't stop. Dr. Albert J. Stunkard of the University of Pennsylvania told a meeting of the American Medical Assn.

The night eater's trouble is that he can't satisfy himself—not that he has such a tremendous hunger drive.

On the other side of the fence is the binge eater—a fellow with a great compulsion to eat, and overeat. He consumes great amounts of food in relatively short periods of time.

His eating habits exhibit great hunger drives but he does seem to become satisfied or oversatisfied.

The difference between the two may lie deep in the control center of the brain—the hypothalamus.

Perhaps one area of the hypothalamus controls satiety—or satisfaction — tells you when you've had enough. Another area may determine the real urge of hunger.

This doesn't mean that the night eater's satisfaction control in his brain is irreversibly damaged. It's just that during periods of light stress, his satisfaction control is disturbed, and doesn't work properly, Stunkard said.

Things are different for the binge eater. It is his hunger control section that may be upset. Usually his eating binges are followed by remorse and self condemnation. The eating binges also come during periods of light stress.

Hurls Charge at Suspended Spa Judge

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) —

Prosecutor Walter J. Hebert charged today that mismanagement by suspended County Judge H. C. Warren had turned a $60,000 county balance into a $100,000 deficit within a year.

Hebert made the assertion in his opening statement as Warren went on trial before a bi-racial jury on a charge that he violated state constitutional amendment No. 10, which requires governmental units to live within their income.

Warren's attorney, Richard Hobbs, waived an opening statement.

Warren is the first person to be tried of a number who have been charged with various offenses as the result of a months-long investigation into Garland County affairs by a Grand Jury and representatives of the state comptroller's office.

A jury composed of two white women, seven white men, one Negro woman and two Negro men was selected for the trial.

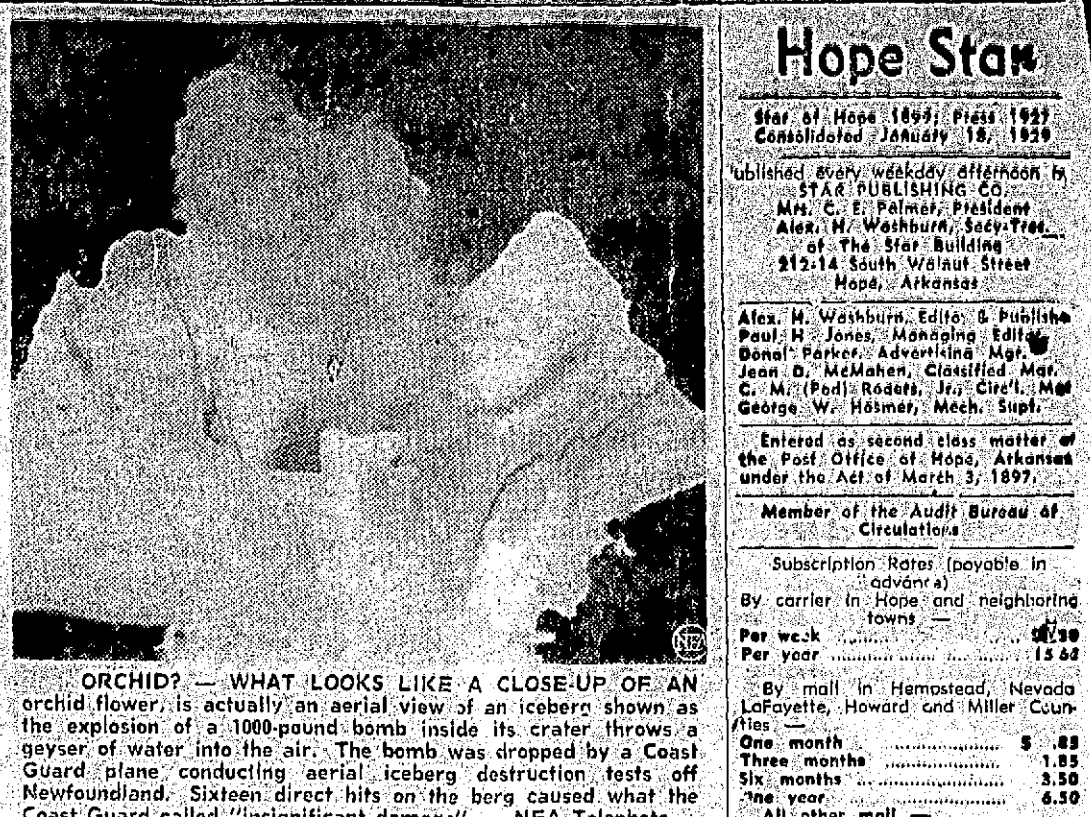

Hebert declared that when Warren took office on Jan. 1, 1959, Garland County had a balance of $60,000.

At the end of the year, there was a net deficit of $100,000 Hebert said.

Warren was suspended as judge several months ago, pending outcome of the charges against him. He has declared he is innocent of any wrongdoing and is a candidate for another term as judge.

The charge on which Warren is being tried is a misdemeanor. He also is scheduled to be tried this week on two other misdemeanor charges.

Aaron Breaks Loose, Braves Win for Jay

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron broke loose, Joey Jay finally won one and the Milwaukee Braves are up in second place in the National League race for the first time since the first week of the season.

Aaron, batting a chilly .279 with only one home run in the last 17 games, hammered two homers and drove in three runs while Jay, pitched 6 2-3 innings of four-hit, shutout relief for a 4-1 victory over Los Angeles Monday night.

It was Jay's first success since last September, and his first over the Dodgers in two years.

With no other games scheduled in the NL, the Braves pushed within four games of first place Pittsburgh and jumped past San Francisco into second by seven percentage points.

The Giants open a four-game series at Milwaukee with a two-night double-header tonight.

In the only American League game scheduled, Kansas City defeated Boston, 9-6.

Aaron, last year's bat champ with a .355 average, upped his current mark to .284 and triggered a winning, two-run second-inning homer off Don Drysdale.

Aaron walked in the third inning, hit his 15th home run of the year leading off the sixth and then drove in another while grounding into a force play against reliever Ed Palmquist in the seventh.

Drysdale (4-9) now has lost five in a row and eight of his last nine decisions.

Jay, whose only other decision was a losing relief job against Pittsburgh two months ago, struck out three and walked one. He came on in the third after starter Bob Buhl, the Dodger killer, gave up four walks.

The seventh place A's beat the last place Red Sox with a tie-breaking, three-run seventh-inning homer by Harry Chitt's home run with a man on.

Hank Bauer's double and a single by Norm Sieber cracked the 5-5 tie and handed Tom Borland (0-2) the defeat. Marty Kutyna (2-2) won it in relief for the A's, who also had a home run from Andy Carey.

MITEY POWERFUL—The little boat isn't much bigger than a water ski, but Jimmy Jackson has it roaring on the water at 25 miles an hour at Cypress Gardens, Fla. There's hardly enough room for a passenger, so Betty (Honey Bear) MacCalla bounces along behind. It's neat transportation on a hot day.

PASSER-BY—Golfers pause at the first tee of the Los Coyotes Country Club, hard by Buena Park to watch Herb Elliott work out for races in southern California. Australia's world record holder in the mile and 1,500 meters runs several miles twice a day on the course. Then he plays golf.

LAW OF INCREASING RETURNS

Floyd Patterson First to Regain Heavy Crown

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson showed he had a lightning left hook to match Ingemar Johansson's thunderbolt right and today held the coveted heavyweight championship for a record second time.

The solemn-faced, 25-year-old New Yorker became the first former heavyweight champion over to regain the title when he knocked out the handsome, hard-hitting Swede with a leaping left hook in 1:51 of the fifth round at the ancient Polo Grounds Monday night.

"I think it was the hardest blow I ever hit anyone," said the elated Patterson, "for the first time I feel I'm a real champion."

"I told Ingemar he positively will get a third shot. I'd like it soon. In 90 days, if possible, I'm going to be a real champion."

"I'm going to think it over," said the downcast Johansson when asked if he wanted the third fight. It was his first defeat in a pro career of 23 fights.

He had soared to the championship heights last June 26 by demolishing Patterson on a seven-round, third-round technical knockout. Now he found it hard to talk.

In regaining the most lucrative prize in sports, the young, broad-shouldered Negro succeeded where eight other ring greats, including Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis, had failed.

At 21, Patterson went into the record books as the youngest heavyweight champion by flatten-

754-Lb. Wrestler Pinned by Seat

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A crash truck crew worked 90 minutes to liberate a 754-pound wrestler who was pinned by a theater seat Sunday.

W. J. Cobb, 28, of Macon, Ga., who wrestles under the name of Happy Humphrey, said "I must have been stuck for 15 minutes before the policemen came."

Crash truck crewmen Raoul Roques and Howard Day, Jr., ripped out two seats with crowbars to free Cobb.

New York — Floyd Patterson, 190, Rockville Center, N. Y., knocked out Ingemar Johansson, 194, Sweden, in 1:51 of fifth round to regain world heavyweight title.

Sydney — Vic White, 129, Australia, outpointed Yukio Katsurama, 129, Japan, 10.

Toronto — Gale Kerwin, Ottawa, Canadian welterweight champion, knocked out Marcel Houde, Quebec City, 3, (weights not available).

ing ancient Archie Moore with a devastating left hook in the fifth round at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956.

Never again had he demonstrated the power of that jolting hook until Monday night. First he felled the 194 pound champion early in the fifth round for a nine-count. Then he did it again with a leaping left that had all of his 190 pounds behind it.

The strong Swede hit the canyons flat on his back. He was out cold. Referee Artie Mercante could have counted 500. It was several minutes before Ingo was propped up on a stool in the ring and several more minutes before he was able to leave the bedlam for his dressing room.

It could have been different if the powerful Viking had been able to follow up his best punch of the night in the second round. He nailed Floyd high on the head with the old "boonker and lightning" right. This was almost the same punch that started Floyd on the way out a year ago.

Patterson was stunned but he was able to retreat. Ingo went after his foe cautiously, poking with his left repeatedly. He didn't get in the followup right. By the end of the round Patterson had regained his full senses.

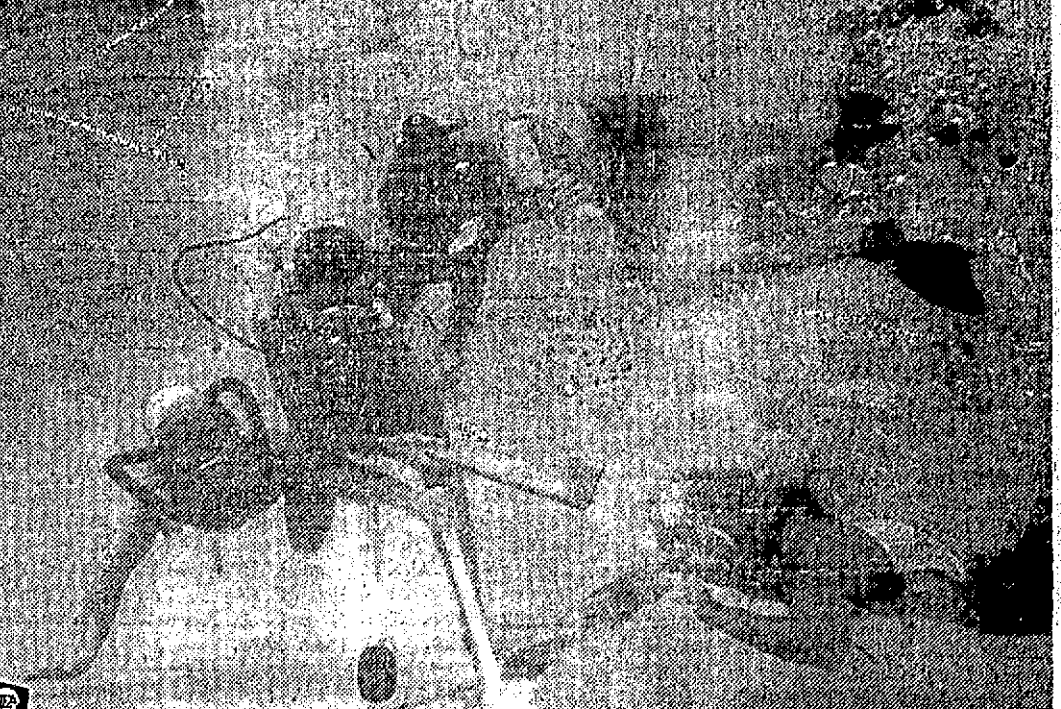

That, it turned out, was Ingo's last chance. It was the only round he got from the officials.

BLIMEY, SIMEY!—Arms and tongue outstretched, O. T. Simey of Cambridge hits the dirt deep and hard at the end of the hop, step and jump in the meet with Oxford in London. His 45 feet, 2 1/4 inches earns him third place, but it most certainly is a championship effort.

MEAT ON THE TABLE—Kirk Damberg, 9, caught two good-size brook trout in Attent Lake, hard by Jackman, Maine, while three adults with him came away empty-handed. Looks like young Kirk can't wait to get his teeth in it. Tastes fine when you catch it.

MELTED ICE HOCKEY—The newest underwater sport provides plenty of action for skin divers in the Carillon Hotel pool on Miami Beach. The players wear weights to remain submerged until a goal is scored or time is called after five minutes. This can get pretty rough.

SHE'S JUST DOTTIE—Dottie Wimberly gets a kick out of splashing around the Gulf of Mexico. She's by Padre Beach in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

What's Next for Palmer in Golf Play

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP)—What's next in contention for Arnold Palmer, 29, the bronzed golf professional from Ligonier, Pa., who seems to make the incredible seem routine?

After his stunning last gasp victory in the National Open championship Saturday, it's two down and two to go in what Arnold hopes—and probably firmly believes—will be the first grand slam in pro history.

Palmer is winning his way to Ireland today with Sam Snead to represent the United States in the Canada Cup matches against pros from some 30 countries this week end.

Once that's out of the way, it's on to St. Andrews in Scotland for the 100th anniversary British Open July 4-8, and after that, back in Akron, Ohio, for the Professional Golfers' Assn. championship July 21-24.

Who's to say this handsome young fellow, who already has proved himself the best golfer in the Masters and the Open, will stop short of all four major championships in one year?

Here at the picturesque, 7,000-yard, par 35-96-71, Cherry Hills course on Saturday, he rammed in six "birdies" on the first seven holes of the final round, broke the open last-round record of 65 and came from seven strokes off the pace to win leg No. 2 with a 72-hole total of 280.

At the end of the 72 holes, Palmer was two strokes to the good of potential great Jackie Nicklaus, who set an Open low-scoring record for amateurs with 282. Mike Souchak, who had blistered Cherry Hills to a record 36-hole total of 135 in the first two rounds, was back at 283 with five others after collapsing to 73-75 on the 36-hole windup.

At 284 was Ben Hogan, who was even with Palmer with two holes to go but hit into water on both the 71st and 72nd holes and splashed out of contention. Until then, it looked like an unprecedented fifth Open championship for Hogan, nearing his 48th birthday.

Snead, who already has reached 48, wound up unsuccessful in his 20th search for his first Open title. He was well back at 289.

For Palmer, the record $14,400 first prize ballooned his earnings for golf this season to $60,603.

Can Cut Aliens Off From SS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today decided old age benefits payable under the Social Security Act may be cut off from an alien deported in 1950 because of Communist party membership.

Justice Harlan delivered the 5-4 decision. Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan dissented.

The ruling applied specifically to Ephraim Nestor, now in Sofia, Bulgaria. He came to the United States in 1913 and worked in jobs covered by Social Security from December 1936 to January 1955.

Upon reaching retirement age in November 1955, he was awarded a pension of $55.60 monthly. He was deported in July of 1956 on the ground of Communist party membership from 1933 to 1939.

husband and I love each other dearly, have been married three years, have one child and are expecting another. Here's the problem: I'm a light sleeper — my husband snores. I sneak out of his room and into the nursery to get a little sleep. There the baby's stirrings keep me awake. We have a den which could be made into a bedroom but my husband gets angry when I suggest it. In fact he won't speak to me when he finds out I've left our bedroom during the night.

The doctor doesn't have a remedy. My husband is not receptive to suggestions that might help the situation. Why must he interpret my inability to sleep in the room with him an insult when I love him with all my heart? I am weary and desperate. Have you a solution to this problem? —Ro-Lak

Dear Ro-Lak: Take a tape recording of your husband's snoring and play it back when he is in a good humor. It should help him recover his own sense of humor as well as make him more sympathetic toward your plea for separate bedrooms. The alternative is to sit up until you're so sleepy that even a pile-driver couldn't disturb your slumber.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I've been running around like a chicken with its head cut off. It's lawyer trouble. I worked hard to make my husband successful. Now, after 23 years of marriage, he wants a divorce. Okay. I got lawyers—one, two, three of them.

Robert Reck, 15, died on Friday.

Our boys are polite and always do this for us. —Girl Scout Secretary

Dear Girl Scout Secretary: Give the boys a chance to be men. They won't like the idea of being called for and delivered. How about one of your parents running an auto service for the party? In that case it would be perfectly proper for the boys to be picked up and returned.

lier's Day. Ten days earlier, Reck's father, Peter Reck, Brigham Hospital removed a kidney from his father, Virgil N. Reck, and transplanted it to Robert.

The boy was seriously ill with a kidney ailment which doctors said would have eventually proven fatal.

"I know everything humanly possible was done by the hospital staff to save Bobby's life," said Reck, a sergeant on the Dayton, Ohio, police force.

A successful father-son kidney transplant would have established a medical precedent. Doctors at the hospital have performed numerous successful kidney transplant operations, most of them involving identical twins.

Sgt. Reck recovered from the operation. But the boy lingered in serious condition for 10 days, and the hospital said after his death that the kidney failed to establish adequate circulation.

Candidates to Meet at Fayetteville

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe C. Hardin called today for Gov. Orval E. Faubus to join him in suggesting a constitutional amendment which would limit a governor's stay in office.

Hardin, one of four men opposing Faubus' fourth term bid, said he was happy to learn from a speech delivered by the governor that Faubus shared his own view "against giving government too much power."

Faubus warned yesterday against the encroachment of governmental power on the rights of individuals.

He made the statement in an address at the graduation of 24 new Arkansas National Guard lieutenants at Camp Robinson near Little Rock.

In a statement issued at his Little Rock campaign headquarters, Hardin said the people have the same opinion about encroachment of power. He cited "legal and constitutional safeguards" against any governor controlling boards and commissions, and added:

"The people provided for staggered terms for board members, thinking no governor would be in office longer than two terms."

Apparently Hardin referred to Constitutional Amendment 35 of 1942, Amendment 42 of 1952. The first establishes staggered terms for board members of charitable, penal or correctional institutions and schools of higher learning. Amendments 35 and 44 regulate appointments to the Game and Fish and Highway Commissions.

"It looks now as if the people are going to have to go one more step and provide a constitutional limit on the length of time a governor may remain in office," Hardin said.

"I am sure that the incumbent in the governor's race will join with me in proposing such a measure, in view of his belief in limiting the powers of government."

Faubus was not available for comment.

Hardin suggested an amendment to give a single four-year term to a governor. He said he would be glad to work for such a measure "if, for some reason, the fourth term candidate should hang back in this test of 'practicing what he preaches.'"

In other developments on the political front, signs indicated that the week's activity would be highlighted by a Fayetteville rally on Thursday at which all five Democratic candidates for governor are scheduled to appear.

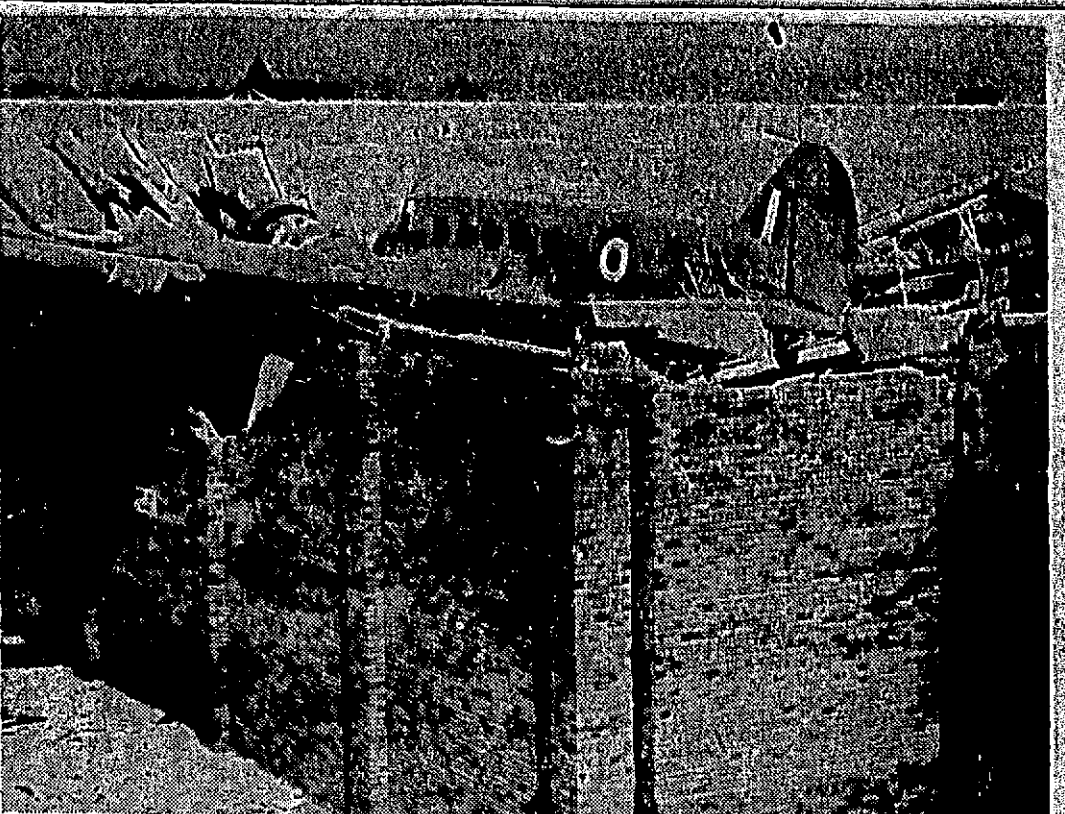

Four of the five—Faubus was the exception—spoke Saturday at a rally in conjunction with the Pink Tomato Festival in Warren. Officials of the 3rd Congressional District Young Democrats Club at Fayetteville said Faubus and the other candidates had promised to attend the rally, along with Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), Rep. J. W. Trimble (D-Ark.) and his opponent, Donald Poe of Waldron, and Amis Guthridge of Little Rock, a candidate for attorney general.

Faubus and Joe C. Hardin of Grady were the only active candidates yesterday. Hardin told Citizens for Hardin workers in Little Rock "the only reason I am running is because of this fourth term threat with which we are faced." Faubus seeks a fourth term.

Saturday's rally left one candidate, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, convinced that his rivals are missing or ignoring the real issues of the campaign. Bennett listed these as integration, population loss, development of industry and better distribution of taxes.

Bennett charged that all taxes had gone up during the Faubus administration and that every federal government installation except Blytheville and Little Rock Air Force Bases had been "driven" from the state.

Hardin contended the Faubus campaign was based on "confusion, emotion and baroque" in a statement issued after his rally appearance at Warren he had concentrated

LIKE LANDING ON EGGS—Twin-engine Royal Air Force plane smashed the roof and walls of this warehouse in Northolt, England. But the four men in the plane escaped injury and not one of the one million eggs stored in the building was broken.

READY FOR ABOMINABLE SNOWMAN—Three explorers check equipment in Chicago as they get ready for a Himalayan expedition which they hope will uncover the fabled Abominable Snowman. on the fourth term issue. H. E. Williams of Walnut Ridge also struck at the fourth term idea and condemned tax increases under Faubus.

Hal Millsap Jr. of Siloam Springs promised to double welfare payments and said, "a one-cent sales tax increase should either go for schools or be abolished."

Defending Faubus at the rally was Labor Commissioner Clarence Thornbrough, who said of the governor's foes:

"Some day they're going to have to lay down a program for comparison and then the people will have something on which to base their decisions."

Thornbrough referred to Faubus' three terms as "the most progressive administration the state has ever had."

Bentonville Resident Is Electrocuted

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—James Howard, 30-year-old farmer living near Bentonville, was electrocuted yesterday when the casing from a deep well came in contact with a 7,620-volt power line.

Stanley Lisle, 34, and a half brother, H. C. Waters, 44, were hurt.

The three were working on Lisle's farm near Healing Springs, about eight miles southwest of Bentonville.

Sheriff Hugh Black said they were using a tractor and a winch to pull casing from the well. He quoted Lisle as saying he thought at first there was an explosion.

"When I came to," he said, "Howard was on top of me."

Lisle was treated at Bates Memorial Hospital in Bentonville and transferred to the Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville, where his condition was serious. Waters was treated at the Bentonville hospital for severe burns on the feet. His condition was satisfactory.

Left Fire for Station House

HONFINGTON, England (AP)—Volunteer fireman Eddie Marks was enjoying a pint of beer in the bar of the New Dolphin hotel Sunday when the town's fire siren sounded.

Marks ran a half mile to the fire station. When he got there the engine had left—for the New Dolphin. The fire, a minor one, was in the hotel kitchen.

Approval Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has been asked to approve a re-arrangement of the Missouri Pacific Railroad's operations between Pargould and Doss, Ark.

The railroad wants to abandon its 14-mile line between the towns and obtain trackage rights from the parallel Cotton Belt Railroad.

School Bill Given Boost By Group

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee took a big step today in the direction of getting to President Eisenhower's school construction bill, he might sign.

It agreed to hear a House Education Committee request that conferees representing the Senate and the House be allowed to try to work out a compromise measure. Without Rules Committee clearance, conflicting bills passed by the two branches could not be reconciled before Congress adjourns.

The committee's decision apparently meant that leaders of both political parties have determined that Congress should not adjourn without passing some kind of a school bill.

Informal agreement already has been reached on major terms of a possible compromise, sponsors of the House bill have noted. But until the Rules Committee acts, no formal compromise can be drafted and referred to the two houses.

Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) has set no date for the Rules Committee hearing but has advised Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) of the Education Committee that Barden may have a hearing at his convenience.

The school bills have been punted on the desk of House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) since June 9. Rep. James C. Davis (R-Ga.) objected then when unanimous consent was asked to agree to a Senate request for a conference.

The House bill contains an anti-segregation provisions which the Senate refused to accept. But the Senate measure is more costly and would permit use of some federal funds to bolster teachers' salaries, a provision rejected by the House.

The House bill would provide $1,300,000,000 to be spent over a four-year period exclusively for school construction and allocated on the basis of each state's school-age population.

The Senate bill calls for $1,800,000,000 to be spent during a two-year period and to be disbursed on a formula based on each state's needs, with the state deciding whether to spend it for construction or for teachers' salaries or both.

The compromise most often discussed informally would drop the anti-segregation provision and the salary clause and retain the Senate distribution formula.

Rules Couple Is Entitled to Refund

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Robinson of Conway are entitled to a $3,084 income tax refund, Federal Judge J. Smith Henry has ruled.

Henry said yesterday that deductions to which the Robinsons were not entitled had been taken up on mistaken advice of an accountant.

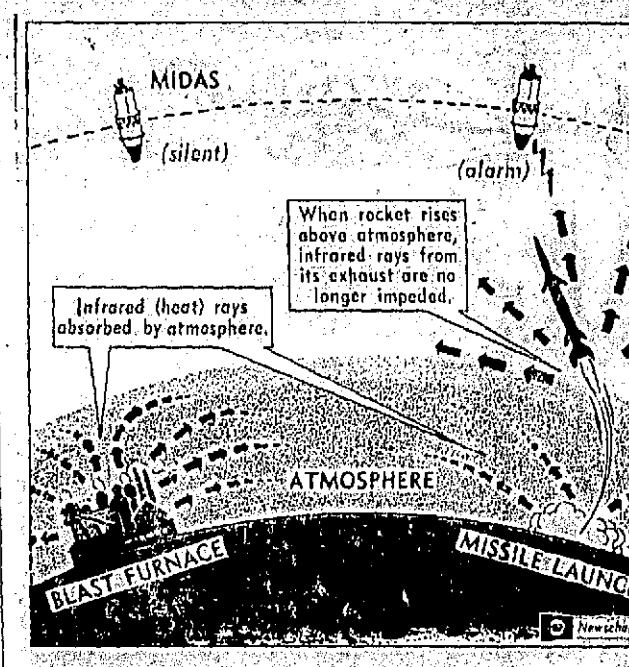

But he ruled that the period under which the Internal Revenue Service could recover for these deductions had expired.

The Robinsons paid the additional IRS levy under protest and then filed their successful suit.

'Old Timers' Swap Stories

RECALL THE 'OLD DAYS'—Mrs. Sue (Grandma) Sutton and J. M. (Mac) Garland, both of Emmet and 92 and 83 years young respectively, swap experiences about the 'old days' in southwest Arkansas. Pioneers like them will be specially honored at Nevada-Hempstead Counties 'Old Timers' Day' on Saturday July 9, at Arkla Village. The day's festivities, to which there will be no admission charge, will include fiddlers' and gospel quartet contests, free buggy rides, the appearance of several dignitaries, and a broadcast by the famed Louisiana Hayride right from the village. Mrs. Sutton and Garland are shown seated in the village's Wagonwheel (salsapilla) Saloon.

HOT SPOTTER—Short of having a spy at enemy headquarters, satellites like the newly launched MIDAS II will one day give America the soonest possible warning of a missile attack. Sketch above shows how the MIDAS (missile detection alarm system) works. The satellites will not only detect missiles, but plot their courses and relay the information to ground defenses. It is claimed that they will ultimately be so refined that they will even be able to recognize the exhausts of different kinds of missiles. Testing of the system may have to wait until MIDAS III, however, since MIDAS II's infrared scanner has not been functioning properly, the Air Force says.

Mass Bomb Shelter Sought by CD

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal Civil Defense agency wants the Arkansas Highway Commission to consider building a mass public atomic shelter on new Interstate Highway 55 in Mississippi County.

The CD would pay for building the shelter, but the Highway Department would have to maintain it. Highway Director F. R. Oliver said action would be deferred since the Legislature has not provided funds for such a project.

Suit Against Hal Millsap Dismissed

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Federal Judge John E. Miller has dismissed a receivership suit which charged Hal Millsap Jr., a candidate for governor, and his father with dissipating four million dollars of their firm's money.

Miller said that after examining the case late yesterday that

Assigned to a Negro School

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Negro girl, who expressed interest in joining the Central High School band, apparently will spend her fourth grade year at all-Negro Horace Mann High instead.

The School Board yesterday re-assigned Irma Jean Rouben to the Negro school from Central. She and seven other Negro Junior high school graduates earlier had been assigned to enter integrated high schools next year.

The girl's parents had written a letter saying she was interested in band. Board Secretary Ted Lamb said and the Central High band director said that school band was full. She could take band at Mann, Lamb said.

Her mother pledged to do all she could to see that Irma Jean attends Central, even if she cannot take band.

Three of eight Negroes who attended Central and Mann the other integrated high school this year were graduated. The other five were re-assigned to those schools, making a total of 12 Negroes now scheduled to attend classes with some 3,000 white students.

The Board acted at a special meeting at which it set hearings for 35 Negro high school students and 35 Junior high school students who have asked for transfers to integrated or all-white schools under state pupil placement laws.

The junior high requests are the first by Negroes for admission to an all-white school below the high school level.

Reassignment hearings are scheduled June 30, July 1, July 7 and July 13.

was apparent, his court had no jurisdiction.

The dismissal did not become known publicly until today.

A hearing on the suit had been scheduled this morning.

A similar suit has been filed in a state court. — Benton County Chancery Court at Bentonville.

Hearing on the state suit is set for Thursday.

The firm involved is the Millsap Oil and Gas Co. of Siloam Springs. The Millsaps home town. Hal Millsap Jr. is one of four men opposing Gov. Orval E. Faubus' bid for a fourth term.

Attorney Sam Sexton Jr. of Fort Smith, representing 11 stockholders in Millsap Oil and Gas who filed the suit, had intended to drop the state suit if Miller ruled the federal court had jurisdiction.

The Millsap company was chartered in Delaware, but does business mainly in Arkansas.

The Millsaps and other company officials have denied the allegations in the suit, which asked appointment of a receiver and an audit of the firm's books.

Miller said in dismissing the action "there was no diversity of citizenship since the plaintiffs and defendants both live in Arkansas."

If they had lived in different states, the federal court apparently could have taken jurisdiction.

The judge gave permission for counsel to withdraw the complaint and to strike the case from his docket. He did not hold a hearing.

Miller said a company which does most of its business in Arkansas is considered an Arkansas firm even though it was incorporated in another state.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Pipelining energy grows in importance

Demand is rising, constantly, for energy in every form... to power airplanes... run automobiles... cook meals... heat and light homes... and the thousands of energy chores in an energy-hungry America.

Zooming during the past decade, demand for energy is expected to virtually double during the next twenty years. So far, pipelines have proved to be the most practical and economical means of transporting energy in the form of petroleum and natural gas, which now supply over half of the nation's energy requirements. Also, today, even coal is being transported by pipeline.

That's why Texas Eastern is planning far ahead as it diversifies its activities in the field of energy supply and enlarges its role as Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation.

Says Faubus Should Talk Farm Needs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Joe C. Hardin said today he thought it was time for Gov. Orval E. Faubus to stop discussing Little Rock integration and do something about farmers' needs.

"Screaming about Little Rock's school problem won't help solve Arkansas' farm problem," Hardin said.

In a statement issued by his Little Rock campaign headquar ters, Hardin said that if elected governor he would start an aggres sive program "to find answers to the production and marketing prob lems of the farmer."

The candidate — one of four opposing Faubus' fourth term bid — said he would set up a "Gover nor's Advisory Committee on Agri culture, composed of farmers and friends of agriculture, to study what can be done to aid farming."

He said he would lay down a four-point program in approach ing Arkansas' farm problems.

The Grady planter-businessman said this would include wider re search for new markets, research on new crops, training unskilled farm workers for mechanized agri culture and industry, and secur ing new industries for processing Arkansas agricultural products.

Declares Shot Firing Is as Predicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said today the firing of shots into a segrega tionist lawyer's office bore out his prediction that an inflamma tory incident would be created in the political campaign.

Several bullets were pumped through a glass window at the of fice of Amis Guthridge yesterday. No one was hurt by the mysteri ous slings.

Bennett, one of five candidates in the race for governor, hinted that Gov. Orval E. Faubus used incidents to gain votes.

"The statement by Bennett said: 'Several months ago I predicted that there would be a shooting at the office designed to re-inflame the people of Arkansas and that such incident or incidents would be timed to reap votes in the pri mary this summer.'

"The groundwork for such an incident was laid yesterday when someone shot into Amis Guth ridge's empty office."

Guthridge, a segregationist lead er and candidate for attorney gen eral, was a key figure in a recent Pulaski County Grand Jury in vestigation of charges that syn dicate-type vice is prevalent in this area. The jury said it found no evidence to back up the charges, which were made by Guthridge.

Bennett said Guthridge "has al ways been a tool for the present administration, which in turn is absolutely dependent upon the turmoil and strife generated and nurtured by Daisy Bates."

His statement said that "just before the primary two years ago some unknown person shot into Daisy Bates' home."

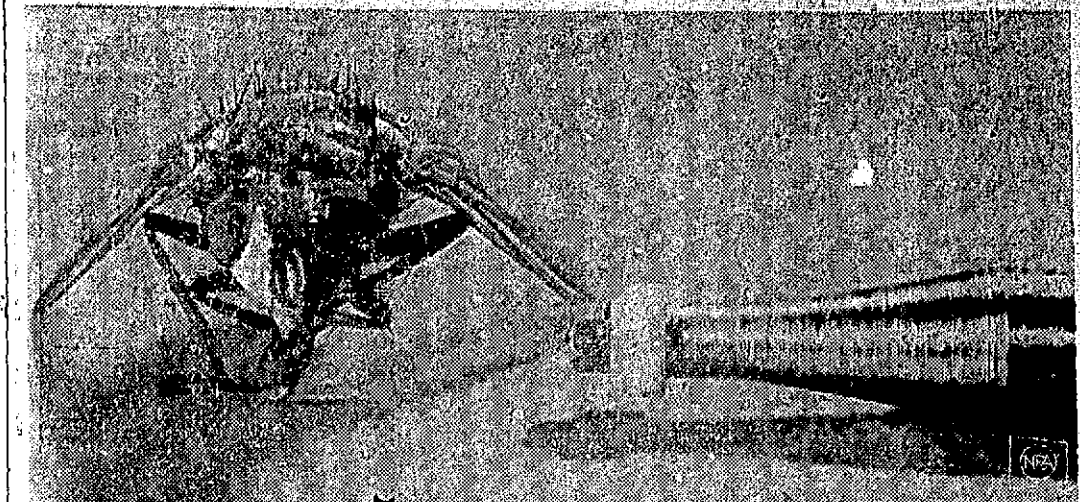

Mrs. L. C. (Daisy) Bates is Arkan sas president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Bennett added, "It seems per fectly obvious to me that someone is trying to re-create the same pattern of two years ago."

He predicted that the Guth ridge shooting "is just the first of future incidents to be created to draw attention away from the actual failure of 5 1/2 years of misrule."

Bennett said "Amis Orval and Daisy are just as much interde pendent upon each other as Da mon and Pythias."

This was his only direct refer ence to Faubus.

SMALL AS A FLY'S EYE—The smallest grinding wheel ever made commercially is almost as tiny as the eye of a house fly. The little abrasive wheel, developed by Bay State company in Westboro, Mass., will be used to grind miniature ball bearings which go into the production of cameras, tape-recorders, missile guidance systems and other microminiature instruments.

Senate Votes

The bill also continues for another year 10 per cent levies on local telephone service, telegrams and passenger fares made effective during World War II.

The Senate Finance Committee had recommended these be allowed to die June 30, at a cost of $52 million a year.

Last year the Senate voted to repeal both the telephone and travel levies. In the conference with the House the effective date was moved up to July 1, 1960.

These were the loophole amend ments adopted by the Senate:

By Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), to repeal the 4 per cent tax credit on stock dividend income, bringing in 350 million a year.

By Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), to outlaw many entertainment items now eligible as business deductions, bringing in 260 million annually.

By Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), to provide that the percentage depletion allowance may apply only to the raw mineral value and not the finished product. This would cut off a present 50-million Treas ury loss. The potential cost of this loophole has been estimated at 600 million annually if the Supreme Court upholds lower court decisions and more businesses take advantage of the rulings.

Defeated were amendments to boost revenue by putting in an income tax withholding system on dividends and interest, to cut the oil and gas depletion allowance, and to prevent the use of capital gains' tax treatment for depreciable property.

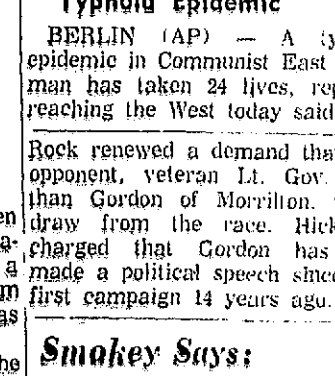

Freighters' Collide KIEL, Germany (AP) — Two Dutch freighters collided in the Kiel Canal today, and one went down, taking the captain's wife and an engineer with it.

Harbor police said the 500-ton freighter Uranus rammed into the side of the canal and bounced off into the path of the 3,200-ton Themis.

Typhoid Epidemic BERLIN (AP) — A typhoid epidemic in Communist East Ger many has taken 24 lives, reports reaching the West today said.

Rock renewed a demand that his opponent, veteran Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon of Morilton, with draw from the race. Hickman charged that Gordon has not made a political speech since his first campaign 14 years ago.

Business Firm Is Bankrupt

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Business Development Corp. of Little Rock and a subsidiary, Lenders Service Co., have been declared bankrupt.

The ruling yesterday by Federal Court Referee Lee Cazart Sr. follows a series of court actions which began last February when a group of ABDC stockholders petitioned in Pulaski Chancery Court for appointment of a receiver for the firm.

Several creditors of the firms asked federal court, in petitions filed June 7, to declare them bankrupt.

Shadow Boxer

A PATIENT WAITER DOZING IN THE sun while his master shopped caught the attention of Photographer Lowell Georgia — who just happened to have his Miranda camera along. Fascinated by what appeared to be a two-headed dog, Georgia snapped this photo for his paper, the Green Bay (Wis.) Press-Gazette. In this case the phenomenon resulted, not from Russian scientists, but the Wisconsin sun that reflected the Boxer's head in an auto window. The Miranda was equipped with a 300mm. lens, shot on F11 at 1/125th second.

The above picture was engraved by The Star from a clipping of the Publishers' Auxiliary, Chicago newspapermen's weekly, sent to The Editor by Cecil Johnson of Emmet. Mr. Johnson is a brother of Archie Johnson, publisher of the Nevada News, Prescott, and formerly was engaged in commercial printing in Hope. How do dog pictures get into a newspaper? The Star's Editor has a Boxer, too.

worried look on his heavy-lidded face.

"All law-abiding folks in bed but us, I reckon," McQueen said.

"That, time of night," Guiley stirred. "Nobody asleep at the Frontier, Virg."

"Coffee?" he asked Guiley.

Guiley lifted his head, but not to the question. "Somebody rattlin' the office door. I think."

McQueen heard the sound, too. He stepped into the office and crossed it to the street door and stood to one side, drawing his gun. "Who's there?" he demanded.

"Dorcas. Please let me in."

He slid back the bolt and admitted her, then quickly bolted the door again. Only then did he touch his gun. She blinked in the lamplight. He had expected no peaceful visitors at this late hour, and his face must have betrayed his surprise. "I'm sorry to bother you," she said. "I went to bed and tried to sleep, but I couldn't. You've got Duke here now."

He nodded.

"I'd like to see him, if I may."

He gestured with his head toward the jail section, and she walked into the corridor which gave off this office from the side opposite his quarters. He stood waiting. He could hear the murmur of her voice and Duke's, but he could not make out the words.

Still, he began to feel like an eavesdropper, so he went back to the other room and sat down at the table across from Guiley.

"What's she want?" Guiley asked with open antagonism.

He didn't bother answering. Presently Dorcas appeared in the doorway. She looked disheveled and tired and woebegone, yet she looked strangely at peace with herself. She did not so much as nod to Guiley.

"I walked along Bottom Street before I came here," she said. "Hatchet's at the Frontier. I suppose you know that."

"Yes," McQueen said.

"I'd like to wait here with you," she said. "Even if it means staying up all night."

Guiley said with both anger and alarm. "You go home, girl!"

Dorcas shook his head. "Duke and I were married this afternoon. My place is here. I won't be in the way if they come."

Guiley sat bolt upright. "You and Duke married?" His face began working so that it looked as though he were crying. McQueen, watching him, judged that until this moment, Guiley had not liked this girl.

"Married?" Guiley said dazedly. "Girl, I had it figured you'd told Virg. here, where to find Duke. I read the sign all wrong."

He raised his eyes to McQueen. "Let her stay, Virg. Like she says, she belongs here."

McQueen got up and fetched another chair to the table for Dorcas. When she had seated herself, Guiley looked down at his big hands, opening and closing them again. "You'll have to give me time to get used to the idea, girl," he finally said. "I never had a daughter."

That was when Dorcas Lane smiled. "And I never had a father," she said.

Bank Call Issued

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Wednesday, June 15.

Nixon was in North Dakota to support the candidacy of Gov. John E. Davis, running for the Senate in a special June 23 election. His opponent is Rep. Quentin Burdick.

Although Nixon strongly urged the election of Davis, he disagreed with the governor on one major issue, Nixon said he is in favor of the soil bank program. Davis is against it.

In the Democratic race, Mayor Robert Wagner of New York announced his support of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for the presidential nomination.

HARD PURSUED BY NORMAN A. FOX

By NORMAN A. FOX CHAPTER XXXII

Pru shuddered. "If Duke got him between the eyes with a 45 couple of chairs, a sink and slug, as I heard, he was no sight to see. Tull probably built the box, put him in it, and nailed down the lid."

He moved to the table and bent to blow out the lamp. He straightened up abruptly. "Did you hear it?" he asked.

"Hear what, fly?"

"I don't know. Some kind of sound. Very faint. A sort of drumming."

He picked up the lamp again. He had another look in Tull's bedroom and Rigby's. He glanced toward the kitchen door, hesitated, then walked over and opened it. He stepped into the kitchen and found Pru close behind him. Nothing here but a rusty range, a crude table and a couple of chairs, a sink and pump, some cupboards. He raised the lamp. Set in the floor was a box, put him in it, and nailed down the lid. He knew where that would lead, to a cellar beneath the house.

"Might as well have a look," he said.

He raised the trapdoor and saw the dark maw of the cellar and the ladder leading down. He handed the lamp to Pru. "I'll just be a minute," he assured her. He lowered himself through the opening, and groped with a foot for a rung of the ladder. He wouldn't have needed it. This cellar was shallow enough that he could have dropped in its dirt floor. The smell of fatted potatoes was strong, and the musty, smell of damp earth. He looked up at Pru. "Mighty dark down here," he said. "Hear me the lamp, will you?"

She bent to give him the lamp, and he reached up to take it. She could look across his shoulder into the depth of the cellar, and thus as the light left there, she was the first to see what lay beyond. Her eyes were wide and he thought she was going to faint. He moved quickly to get the wavering lamp from her hand. Then a scream burst from her throat against his ears, and he turned and saw what she had seen.

McQueen, moving aimlessly from his littered room quarters to his littered office, came to an abrupt halt and told himself he'd better sit down.

Not a stir out there in the night-blanketed street, and not a stir from Duke Jordan, the lone prisoner in the jail section beyond the office. Not much of a stir from Guiley Jordan, either, seated by the lamp, a tall, a morose lump of a man, opening and closing his best sometimes, a
